

THE GENE DOYLE ADVENTURE SCHOLARSHIP

2018 APPLICATION

The excitement of daily living,
The challenge of a wild adventure,
A love for the land and sea, people and animals,
A keen awareness of one's surroundings,
The pure joy of the great outdoors,
Of laughing and learning —

This is the spirit of Gene Doyle and the reason for the Gene Doyle Adventure Scholarship

Traditional scholarships offer money toward general college tuition or studies in a particular field, but this scholarship is designed to be as untraditional and unique as was Gene himself. Collier County high school juniors, seniors or college freshmen with a genuine smile, a sense of adventure and a dream for a living, learning experience may apply.

Simply put, it is the goal of the Gene Doyle Memorial Foundation to keep Gene's spirit alive by cultivating and supporting kindred spirits who share his love of life and nature. You are encouraged to choose an adventure of your own design or join a structured trip offered by the National Outdoor Leadership School (NOLS), Outward Bound, or the Alaska Mountaineering School. The Memorial Foundation will provide finances to support the scholarship recipients in their chosen quest.

As you apply, express your zest for life, your exuberant outlook, your dreams and your passion for adventure. Let us read the smile on your face and the joy in your heart, for it is in this spirit that we offer this opportunity.

Eligibility

Collier County residents in their Junior or Senior year of high school or college freshmen (Collier County graduates) between the ages of 16 and 21 at the date of application are eligible to apply for the adventure scholarship. All applicants must be Collier County residents who are avid dreamers with a taste for high adventure that inspires those around them.

Program Descriptions

The Gene Doyle Memorial Foundation has identified three adventure schools, which offer a multitude of exciting programs throughout the country and around the world. As these programs vary widely in location, activity types and cost, review the available courses and expeditions carefully. You may also design your own adventure.

National Outdoor Leadership School (NOLS)

“The wilderness itself teaches lessons that you will learn well.” Live in a small, self-contained expeditionary community while learning wilderness skills, natural history and leadership. Choose from courses on five continents.

For more information visit the website: www.nols.edu

Outward Bound Wilderness

True backcountry expeditions that require each individual’s active involvement. Instructors inform, inspire and then step back. You will lead, follow, set up camp and use technical and safety systems.

For more information visit the website: www.outwardboundwilderness.org

Alaska Mountaineering School

Tread lightly through the vast Alaska Range with accomplished mountain climbers. This school teaches technical climbing skills, safety, leadership, and wilderness appreciation from the base camp in Talkeetna, Alaska. AMS also offers wilderness courses.

For more information visit the website: www.climbalaska.org

Self-Designed Adventure

Students who want to fulfill a dream or take on a rigorous challenge, can submit an adventure plan of their own creation that demonstrates an adventurous spirit. The Scholarship Selection Committee encourages creativity and daring, with a reminder to work out the logistics and costs.

Scholarship Award

This year, the Gene Doyle Adventure Scholarship will award three scholarships of up to $3,500 for registration and tuition, and up to $1,000 for airfare and equipment (maximum of $4,500). NOLS, Outward Bound, and Alaska Mountaineering School offer opportunities that fall within this limit. Applicants are advised to research the cost of travel to and from destinations, as well as the cost of purchasing or renting any necessary equipment. If the cost of registration, tuition, airfare and equipment exceeds the scholarship limits, you are expected to indicate how you will fund the additional cost.
